MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Review Staff

SUBJECT : SSC-MSC Request 75-3172

1. There is no single file or file system maintained in the Office of Personnel which serves as a repository or the record of our relationships with academic or research institutions as requested in your note of 14 October 1975.

2. In a general sense, we have maintained extensive contacts with academic institutions as a result of our recruitment effort which is nation-wide. Almost without exception it can be correctly stated that the contact at any given academic institution for recruiters is the Placement Officer. As such it is essentially an institutionalized relationship rather than a personalized relationship. We have attached (Attachment A) as complete a record as we can compile of the academic institutions at which we have recruited one or more times for the period in question. We can, given additional time, identify the name of the individual who served at the noted institutions as Placement Director.

3. In addition to the above relationship, which is essentially the same relationship maintained by many other federal recruitment activities, we have during the period concerned established certain relationships which might be categorized as "special" or "particular." Among these would be the Universities Associates Program (Attachment B), the Co-op Program (Attachment C), and the Intern Program (Attachment D).

4. In all of the above formal relationships there were, of course, occasional personal relationships which grew out of formal contacts at academic institutions. We would have no way of recording those without being able to sit down with each employee who has served as a recruiter during the period concerned and ask him to record to the best of his memory those relationships which he established outside of the Placement Office.

5. All those whom we contacted were aware that the Central Intelligence Agency was the interested party and that the ultimate objective was recruitment of students for Agency employment. Also in every instance where there was a contractual relationship, an appropriate senior official of the academic institution concerned was aware of the relationship. However, the contractual relationship was not known to the individual students.

(Signed) F. W. M. Janney

UNIVERSITY ASSOCIATES

Individuals participating in this program assisted and advised the Agency on matters relating to and in fulfillment of our personnel requirements. In no instances did this involve the domestic gathering of intelligence, reporting on student dissidents, or the furnishing of information on confidential university matters.

FACT SHEET

The CIA Cooperative Education Program began in 1961. It has doubled in size since 1971, with about one-third of the Agency offices now employing co-ops. Long-range recruiting for occupations in short supply remains the primary goal of the program with more than 50 percent of the graduating co-ops accepting permanent positions.

Seventy-five percent of our co-op requirements are for engineering students. Another 15 percent are for mathematics, physics and chemistry majors. A few positions are available for majors in computer science, accounting or business administration, and foreign studies.

Recruiter interviews with co-op students are scheduled four to six months in advance of the co-ops availability to allow time for necessary Agency processing. The emphasis in the interview is on the suitability and interest of the student in relation to co-op requirements. Academically, most students selected have an approximate 3.0 GPA or better.

Salaries are competitive with those paid by private industry and presently range from $564 to $877 per month, depending on the academic year of the student. Starting salaries for graduating co-ops who become permanent employees may go as high as $12,841 per annum.

Agency co-ops all have employee/employer relationship with the government. They undergo the same medical and security processing as do our permanent employees and receive many of the same benefits. The Agency also pays round trip travel costs from school for each work period. After appropriate orientation and initial training, co-op students are given increasingly challenging assignments commensurate with their academic training and ability to assume responsibility.

The Agency has co-op arrangements with about 30 schools east of the Mississippi River. Should requirements necessitate adding new schools, the CIA Coordinator for Cooperative Programs will visit the school, explain how cooperative education works in the Agency and provide work programs and administrative information.

The Agency is an Equal Opportunity Employer with an aggressive Affirmative Action Plan. U.S. Citizenship is normally required. For further information contact Mr. Robert H. Bell, Coordinator for Cooperative Programs, P.O. Box 9312, Rosslyn Station, Arlington, Virginia 22209.
